

REGISTER NOW:

icocpeacemakers.com

Seven Positive Outcomes

- Local buy-in for relationships, resources and personnel
- Establish relational influence across the region and ICOC
- Works with the ICOC paradigm of co-operation
- Long term gain vs. Short term fix
- Decentralizes, grows, and expands talent
- Training and development for the region
- Healthy and sustainable investment into unity

Peacemakers: Conflict Resolution Training

September 14, 21, 28
Online Only

icocpeacemakers.com

Peacemakers who sow in peace reap a harvest of righteousness.

- James 3:18

Why this training?

Inside every small conflict is a significant conflict trying to get out. A minor conflict, incorrectly handled, may escalate to become a substantial conflict spreading like wildfire. We can see the devastating consequences of unchecked conflict within our churches today. These unresolved conflicts cost us time, money, and energy that may serve better elsewhere if we are proactive in dealing with them when they were small. The consequences of this lack of peace within some of our congregations have divided families, split congregations, and cost precious souls.

What makes our training different?

While based on years of solid research, our training works because it is simple, skills-based, and practiced, so each student leaves the class knowing they can perform the skill. Each student will go with the skills needed to change a conflict, not just head knowledge. Further practice will be expected post-instruction for continued development of skills and growth in mastery of them.

Three Goals

- We aim to make the material explainable, transferable, and sustainable.
- We desire to “train the trainers” to deliver the material in their Regional Family of Churches.
- We want to equip the trainers to be able to implement the skills they have learned, to help manage some of the conflict situations within their Regional Family of Churches.

Workshop Topics

Conflict Dynamics

The GO Conversation for Conflict Resolution

Managing Difficult Conversations

Fee Schedule

To keep the class size manageable, a maximum of four suitable trainers from each Regional Family may register.

First World Regional Families:

- $500 per person
- $800 per couple/pair

Developing World Regional Families

- $250 per person
- $400 per couple/pair

Requirements

- Each participating Regional Family is responsible for obtaining funding for their participants
- Each trainer will participate in an online debrief after presenting the material to their respective Regional Family of Churches. Video conferencing technology is required.
- Each trainer must have access to a computer/laptop, projector, and screen to present the workshop material to their respective Regional Family of Churches.
- Each trainer must have a strong command of the English language as well as their native tongue to be able to on-board and present the material effectively.